Promoting Racial Justice

As we continue to pray and lift up our hearts and minds to walk the path of racial harmony, we are proposing:

- Forming study groups around the 2018 US Bishops' Pastoral Letter, Open Wide Our Hearts. The reality is we cannot change what we do not recognize within our society, our church and ourselves. We are wanting to host a four week study with folks who would in turn lead small groups this fall. Interested? Please talk to Roy, Emily or Doris. Let's create a space for conversation and open ourselves up to what might be possible. What does the Holy Spirit have in mind?

A View from My Window

I am thinking about our nation on this 4th of July Weekend. And I came across a quote from a clergyman and author Gerald Stanley Lee:

America is a tune. It must be sung together.

As some of you know, I enjoy singing and whistling. The thought of America being a tune resonated with me and had me thinking. What the heck does the good reverend have in mind? What is the song that makes up our great nation, and how can we all find our part? Is it the Star Spangled Banner? No, Rev. Lee is seeking something deeper than a particular patriotic song.

Our America has to be a tune which invites us to add our voice. This tune is an invitation to set aside our individual ideas, wants, desires, and dare I say, differences and to embrace a song where all sing together in harmony. Not in monotone, and not in the same voice, but in a way that brings forth the depth and the richness of our lives together. I am sure there will be discordance as we find the right melody, but it will work if we strive to find the harmony of what we can be.

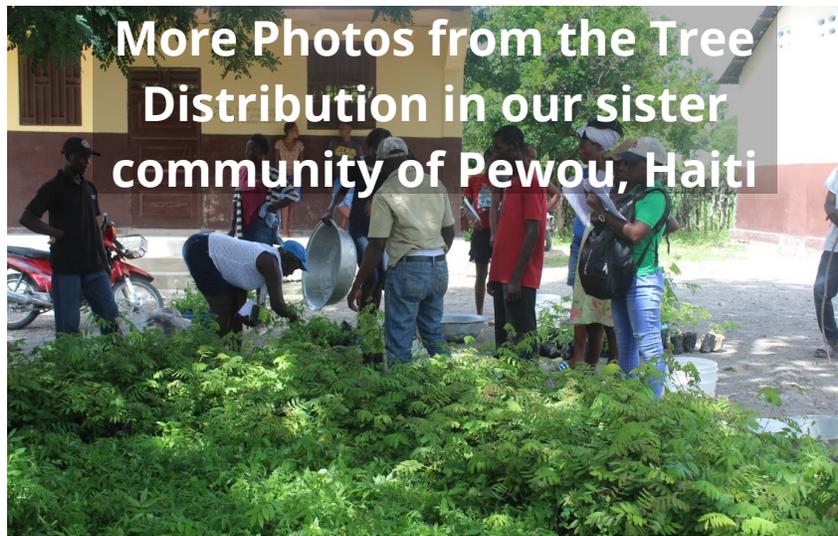

On a totally different note:

The Kingdom of God is like a sound. Jesus understood this. He would seek it out in the desert, on a mountain side, or while sitting in a boat on a lake. He would hear it in the poor, the downcast and the leper. He would find it in the scriptures, sharing a meal, or talking with friends.

Jesus would gather his disciples and say, "the Kingdom of God is like a sound. And once you find it you only have to tune in and hum along."

The disciples stood silent for a long time. . . listening.

Adapted from some book I read somewhere at one time. Sorry I cannot remember the author or title.
