Newman Notes

- Calling all Bakers: the Society of St. Vincent de Paul is holding its annual Mother's Day Bake Sale on the weekend of May 11-12. We invite all bakers to create some goodies for the annual bake sale. Please bring your creations to St. Charles Borromeo parish hall on Saturday, May 11th. For those who do not bake do not worry: we will need "buyers" to make a free will offering to take home and enjoy these tasty treats.

 If you are a rising Sophomore think about being part of our Dr. Ann Jackson Catholic Scholars Program for fall 2024. This scholarship program gives you the opportunity to study Catholic theology, receive a $500 scholarship per semester and have up to 9 credit hours of course work transferred into EIU at no cost to you. Interested: talk with Roy.

- End of the Year Cookout: It is happening on Friday, April 26th starting at 6 pm. Mark your calendar and come on out for an evening of good food and fellowship as we say goodbye to another semester and "blow off some steam" before entering into exam week. Weather permitting we will be out back at the V-ball court.

- Graduating Seniors and Graduate students: Thursday, May 2nd at 5 pm. We will be holding a Baccalaureate and reception for you, family and friends here at the Newman Center. Let us celebrate your wonderful accomplishment by giving thanks to our God. Your invitation is in the mail.

Phil's Pancake Palace is going to be open for one night and one night only: Sunday, April 28th immediately following the the 5 pm Mass. St. Phil will be wearing the chef's hat. We will be serving up pancakes: blueberry, chocolate chip and plain, along with sausages and fruit. We are looking for year round community members to assist with this. Please see Roy if you can help.

A View from My Window

Here is a fun quote from my beloved wall calendar:

Forget not that the earth delights to feel your bare feet and the winds long to play with your hair.

Growing up we used to ask, no beg my mom to go barefoot outside. And her response was always: "Does this month have a R in it." Her kitchen table wisdom meant the ground was not warm enough until May and it gave up its warmth at the end of August, but what a glorious four months it was to run barefoot each and every day all over our yard and in the creek.

Not once did we think that the earth was enjoying our bare feet. We would cut our feet on rocks, get stung by honey bees, and step on thistle, but we enjoyed the freedom of no shoes as we wiggled our toes in the garden dirt or compared the distinct shade of green they had become by the evening. We only thought of our pleasure.

As an adult I still enjoy going barefoot, now I even do so on months with a R in them. The difference now: I do think the earth delights to feel my bare feet. Why? Because there are days when we leave our house, get in our car, walk from the parking lot to our place of work or to go shopping, and never once connect with the earth, just asphalt and concrete. We loose our reference point.

As we see new life springing forth and trees and flowers budding forth in color, we need to open Genesis Chapter 2 and read the fun story of creation where God creates us and everything else out of the ground. He breathed his life into us. We are part of this marvelous creation and it invites us to connect, to celebrate, to recognize the joy of creation and our part in caring for it. St. Francis and Black Elk both spoke of the relationship we have with all things. They are our relatives.

May is just around the corner. Take off your shoes and allow the earth to delight to feel your bare feet.

Peace and Alleluia,

Roy

P.S. And as far as the winds longing to play with our hair, my dad gave his five sons baldy sour haircuts every 6 weeks or so.
